EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Instrument and does not purport to be a legal interpretation.)

Part 4 of the Social Welfare (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 2023 (No. 37 of 2023) amends the Social Welfare Consolidation Act 2005 to facilitate—

- the introduction of flexibility to State Pension (Contributory) to allow a person to defer claiming the State Pension (Contributory) up to the age of 70,
- continued access to specified weekly social welfare payments after reaching pensionable age and during pension deferral,
- the phased transition to the total contributions approach, in the calculation of the State Pension (Contributory).

Consequential to the changes to State Pension (Contributory), these Regulations confirm that a person who has attained the age of 65 years and has not yet attained the age of 66 years, who would otherwise qualify for Jobseeker's Benefit or Jobseeker's Benefit (self-employed), will not be obliged to meet the ongoing requirements of those schemes in relation to availability for work, genuinely seeking work, signing-on or activation.

In addition, they provide that a person who has attained the age of 65 years and has not yet attained the age of 66 years, who is in receipt of Jobseeker's Benefit or Jobseeker's Benefit (Self-Employed), is not disqualified for receipt of such payment where his or her temporary absence from the State exceeds two weeks, provided he or she does not engage in gainful employment during that absence.
